LONDON MOURNS LORD KITCHENER

King and Queen Attend Service in St. Paul's, Given to England's War Lord.

London, June 14.—The late Earl Kitchener, Great Britain's premier soldier, lost when the cruiser Hampshire was mined near the Orkney islands, was yesterday paid a tribute as great as England has ever given to her departed heroes. The service was in St. Paul's cathedral. The king and queen, persons attached to the royal household, many peers, soldiers and statesmen attended, jamming the cathedral to the doors, while thousands stood outside in the rain, with heads bared. Streets in every direction from the cathedral were jammed so tightly that progress of the automobiles was impeded. Thousands of mourners—men and women, drenched to the skin—lined the royal route and bowed their heads in memory of "K. of K."

Many were in deep mourning, expressing the loss as personal.

For a Tip-Top Breakfast Serve New Post Toasties

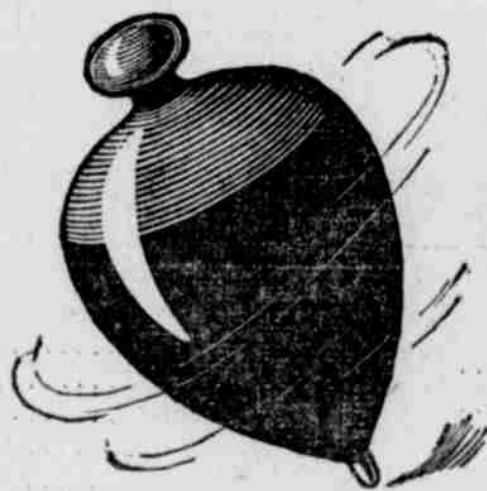

Here's the why:

The New Toasties have a delicate, true corn flavour—unmatched by any other corn flakes. Trial proves.

They are the meat of choicest white Indian Corn—first cooked and seasoned, then rolled into thin wisps and toasted by quick, intense rotary heat. This new patented process of making raises distinguishing little bubbles on each flake, and brings out their wonderful new flavour.

WILSON SCORES HYPHENATES

What America Says, She Means, Declares President at West Point

SOUNDS WARNING AGAINST MILITARISM

President Covers Ground Recently Covered by Candidate Hughes

West Point, N. Y., June 14.—President Wilson, making his first address since the presidential campaign began, yesterday discussed preparedness, militarism, Americanism, the causes of the war in Europe, the Monroe doctrine, divided allegiance, and the ideals of America.

He declared it is the present imperative duty of the United States to be prepared, adding "Americanism is going to know that when America speaks she means what she says."

The president said the United States should not be a blustering nation, a nation with "a chip on its shoulder," but a calm nation, which will withhold its hand as long as possible and strike only to conquer.

The president's address ran through the almost entire list of subjects discussed by former Justice Hughes in his telegram accepting the Republican nomination, and he declared that the United States is ready to join the other nations to see that the kind of justice it believes in is given to the world.

Shaking his finger emphatically the president told the graduates of the military academy and a large audience that nobody who does not put America first can be tolerated.

He added, however, that true Americans should set a good example.

The president declared the present war did not come by accident but that it had to come.

The United States wants nothing from Europe, he said, and there is nothing she wants which she must get by war.

He sounded a warning that no man can tell what the next day will bring forth, in the world's events.

The word "Americanism" was used by the president for the first time in recent addresses.

He constantly referred to the West Point graduates, to whom he was speaking, but referred more to national and international problems. He warned the graduates against militarism.

At one point he touched on pan-Americanism and the Monroe doctrine. He declared this country was ready to swing "its glorious power into the field of action whenever liberty and independence and political integrity are threatened anywhere in the western hemisphere."

The president's speech was frequently interrupted by applause and he was cheered as he concluded.

200 CRIPPLED CHILDREN SAVED

Home is Destroyed by Fire—Village Bucket Brigade Battles with the Flames.

Cleveland, June 14.—Rainbow cottage, home of 200 crippled children, of South Euclid, caught fire at 2:30 yesterday morning. A general alarm summoned aid from Cleveland.

The fire started in a frame building 35 feet from the dormitory. The intense heat broke the windows and set the sills afire, forcing all to flee. All the children were carried to safety through the heroic efforts of ten nurses.

The telephone exchange girl turned in the alarm of fire and then called up every one in the village for the bucket brigade.

ORANGE COUNTY FARMERS' ASSOCIATION NOTES.

Notes for week ending June 10:

Tuesday evening, June 6, the president of the county association, Roy Gilman of Randolph Center, and the county agent talked to the North Tunbridge grange on the work of the association and how the grange could co-operate. The grange took action that evening and appointed three committees to co-operate with the county association. These committees were: Better production committee, Ernest Bates, Frank Larkin, Elmer Sly; better marketing committee, Arthur Folson, Leslie Wheelock, Elmer French; boys' and girls' club work committee, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Blake, Mr. and Mrs. George Moody. This is the third grange to co-operate in this way. Why not others?

Thursday evening, June 8, the county agent spoke to a group of 15 farmers in West Corinth on the work of the association. This was a section not hitherto visited but considerable interest was shown at the meeting.

This week meetings are to be held Monday evening at Chelsea, west hill, and Tuesday evening at the schoolhouse near Charles Waldo's in East Randolph.

The county agent has been pleased to find so many of this year's members ready to continue their membership in the county association this coming year, not one whom he has seen so far dropping out. If these men are satisfied, there ought to be many more in each town who could also receive benefits by co-operating with the county association in membership. If interested, get in touch with some of the officers of the association or G. Leland Green, secretary, Randolph Center.

Owing to the continued rainy season, some are unable to plant as much corn as planned. These men with some other crop which can be put in later to replace this. To these millet is a crop to be called to their attention. Millet can be grown for hay, a soiling crop and silage. There are three kinds on the general market. Common millet is a moderately coarse variety which should be cut for hay soon after it begins to head. Two to three pecks of seed per acre are recommended. Hungarian is finer in stem and matures quicker and is generally recommended for hay. It is often ready to cut in 60 days. Two to three pecks of seed per acre are required. Japanese millet is a coarser variety, is better adapted to wet land, too coarse for good hay and better for soiling or silage. Ten to 12 quarts of seed are required per acre. All millets are toughed by frost, and are very responsive to extra fertilizing. For silage, millet is not as good as corn but can be mixed with corn very satisfactorily or put in first with corn on top will keep well. The odor is rather strong when ensiled alone.

Why Women Write Letters

To Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co.

Women who are well often ask "Are the letters which the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. are continually publishing, genuine?" "Are they truthful?" "Why do women write such letters?"

In answer we say that never have we published a fictitious letter or name. Never, knowingly, have we published an untruthful letter, or one without the full and written consent of the woman who wrote it.

The reason that thousands of women from all parts of the country write such grateful letters to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. is that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought health and happiness into their lives, once burdened with pain and suffering.

It has relieved women from some of the worst forms of female ills, from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, nervousness, weakness, stomach troubles and from the blues.

It is impossible for any woman who is well and who has never suffered from these troubles, to feel when restored to health; their keen desire to help other women who are suffering as they did.
